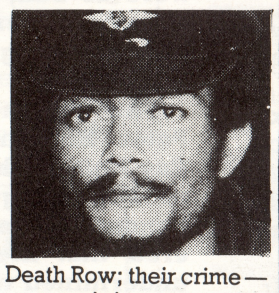
The FLAG

IN SUPPORT OF THE NATIONAL FRONT

No.2 September 1986. 20p

GHANA



RULED BY Flight Lieutenant Jerry Rawlings who seized power in a military coup. He is head of a military junta that is not subject to electoral parliamentary discipline.

Since the beginning of 1984, 31 of his opponents have been executed. Thousands are under detention. At the moment 33 people are waiting on Death Row; their crime—opposition to the Government.

KENYA

A ONE-PARTY state ruled by President Arap Moi. The opposition parties were banned in 1969. Under the Preservation of Public Security Act individuals can be arrested and detained without charge or trial for an indefinite period

MALAWI

A ONE-PARTY state ruled by 'Life-President' Dr. Hastings Banda. An unquantified number of people remain detained without charge or trial and more than 100 await execution on Death Row for political offences.

NIGERIA

IN 1983 Major-General Buhari seized power in a military coup. In 1985 he was 'removed' by a military coup led by General Babanginda.

Ten opponents of the junta were executed by firing squad on March 5th this year for political offences.

SIERRA LEONE

A ONE-PARTY state ruled by President Stevens. In March last year alone 600 people were detained without charge or trial for political offences.

UGANDA

PRESIDENT MUSEVENI was installed in January after waging a five-year guerilla war.

His predecessors Milton Obote and Idi Amin were responsible for "gross violations of human rights including political killings, torture and widespread detention without trial of political opponents".

ZAMBIA

A ONE PARTY state ruled by President Kenneth Kaunda.

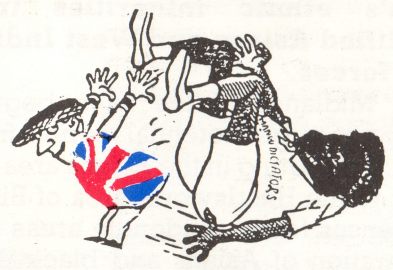
Under security regulations the President may authorise detention without trial for an unlimited period.

ZIMBABWE

GOVERNED by former terrorist Robert Mugabe who wants to turn the country that was formerly Rhodesia into a one-party state by 1990.

The minority Ndebele tribe are continually persecuted by Mugabe's own private army the Fifth Brigade, whose massacres in Matabeleland of the Ndebele make that part of the country resemble the 'Killing Fields' of Cambodia.

IT'S TIME TO UNLOAD THE MANGO DICTATORS



THE TIME HAS COME for Britain to unload the burden of the Black Commonwealth, relinquishing the responsibility we have assumed since the days of the British Empire.

Over the years the bailing out and propping up of these Mango Dictators which make up the African dimension of the Commonwealth has cost us dear.

Lack of money at home has meant British hospitals closing down, a slow down on the building and renovation of homes for British people.

It has meant that British old folk are skimped in their pensions and that British industry is starved of investment; and all so that a massive £500 million a year can be given to these tyrants, many of whom have their hands stained with the blood of their own fellow countrymen.

GROVELS

Yet despite all the hand-outs, the Mango Dictators practice a policy of biting the hand that feeds them and the weak British Government, instead of saying enough is enough, grovels and panders, trying to curry favour with men who in civilised society would be branded as crooks and murderers.

These Commonwealth countries which relieve us of our hard earned wealth each year don't even bother to support us at a time of crisis. During the Falklands War only two countries out of the 47 of the Commonwwealth backed Britain in the United Nations. The others turned their back on us!

The antics of Geoffrey Howe on his recent 'diplomatic missions' are enough to make even the most lukewarm patriot hang his head in shame.

● Feeble Geoffrey Howe sat for an hour waiting for Zambia's Kenneth Kaunda and then listened to a tirade from this Mango Dictator who was elected president in 1983 because his was the only name on the ballot paper! One man – One vote – One candidate!

● Feeble Geoffrey Howe begged to have an audience with the murdering terrorists of the ANC, but they just laughed at his pleas and called him a "clown". Winnie Mandela scorned his requests and gleefully announced: "My husband will not see him".

● Feeble Geoffrey Howe was kept waiting for six hours to meet Mashoeshoe II, the King of Lesotho, who was out walking when Howe arrived for his 3.30 appointment.

● Feeble Geoffrey Howe was snubbed by Zimbabwe's foreign minister Witness Mangwende who refused to attend a dinner at the British High Commission in Harare. A ministry spokesman denounced Britain for supporting South Africa.

"British policy is devoid of the milk of human kindness," he said, ignoring the fact that Britain's aid to Zimbabwe has now topped £160 million.

OWN AFFAIRS

These African countries who lecture us on 'freedom' and 'the milk of human kindness' should look to their own affairs.

Of the 47 Commonwealth countries more than half do not have 'political liberty' according to the widely respected Freedom House records in New York.

Yes, the time has come for Britain to unload her burden. The time has come to end overseas aid and close our shores to immigrants from the Commonwealth.

It is then and only then that we can really help the people of the Third World by returning to them six million of their fellow countrymen at present resident in Britain.

Among these are men and women who are doctors, nurses, engineers and skilled workers, who can supervise and train their fellow countrymen so that continents like Africa an learn to stand on their own and earn the respect of the rest of the civilised world.

SOUTH AFRICA: A Spirit that will not be broken? – PAGE 4

Bloody Hypocrite

"BRITAIN has sullied her record on human rights," announced Rajiv Gandhi as he left Britain after the Commonwealth Summit.

Pious words from a man whose country is racked by religious division and an horrific caste system based on skin colour that makes the South African Government look like an equal opportunity employer.

With India's caste system, the lighter your skin colour the more social standing you have; the darker the pigment of your skin, the lower down the social ladder you go.

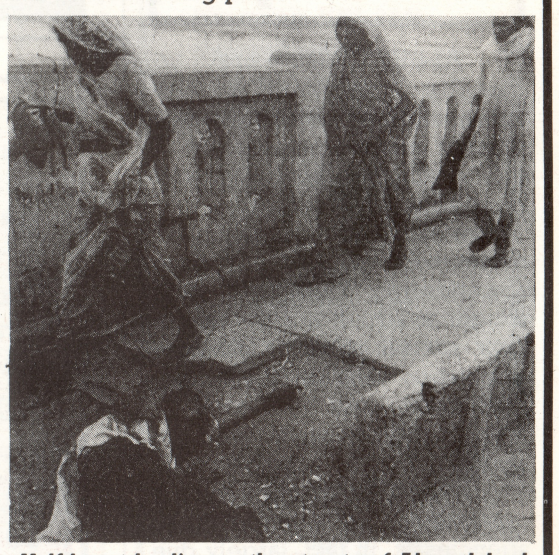
Dealing with political opponents

Different castes keep themselves to themselves, hardly ever mixing, and the darkest ones, called 'Untouchables', are treated like lepers and have to do all the country's menial jobs.

What sort of society is it when you call a fellow countryman 'Untouchable'?! Yet nice light-skinned Rajiv Gandhi, who presides over and condones this vile system of 'human grading' has the cheek to lecture us about human rights.

Amnesty International's report on India last year was pretty grim too. It said it was concerned about the detention of prisoners of conscience, and about the number of political detainees who were held without trial.

Amnesty was also concerned about allegations of torture and the number of executions taking place.



Half-burnt bodies on the streets of Ahmedabad

At the time Gandhi was in Britain lecturing us on human rights, back in his own country two young Muslims were being burnt alive by an angry crowd of Hindus, bringing the death toll in the three day disturbance to 68

As the rival groups clashed in the city of Ahmedabad, bodies of the victims laid in the streets for days before being removed.

● In 1985 India received £106 million in financial aid from Britain.

NF DUPE COUNCIL

BIRMINGHAM NATIONAL Front held a highly successful branch meeting on July 28th in Digbeth Civic Hall despite being banned from all city council property.

Labour councillors were livid that they had been duped by the local NF simply because the booking was made in the name of an individual rather than that of the party.

Dick Knowles (Lab., Sparkbrook) was particularly worried that the large ethnic communities in the constituencies of Nechells and Sparkbrook would be angry if they thought the council had condoned the meeting.

"I think it is an affront that the National Front should organise meetings in the constituencies of either Roy Hattersley or Dennis Howell, both of whom are champions of the coloured immigrant community," he said.

The meeting itself was a great success with more that 50 members in attendance — a sign of the consistent growth of the NF in the West Midlands.

Anti-IRA Demo

IT WAS back at Digbeth Hall a week later on Sunday 3rd August that Birmingham NF tried to attend a public meeting organised by the Socialist workers party to discuss 'A Solution to Ulster'.

But as often happens on these occasions, when the meeting's organisers saw the NF contingent arriving they quickly informed the Police that the public meeting had suddenly become private and that the NF were not to be allowed in.

Birmingham National Front held a picket on the steps of the Civic Hall making it quite clear to the I.R.A. supporters inside and to the public outside that 'Ulster is British Forever!'

Genetic influence in adult obesity

DR. ALBERT Stunkard, an 'obesity specialist at the University of Pennsylvania recently carried out a survey of 540 adults in Denmark who were adopted as infants.

Now at tl.e average age of 42 researchers found a strong connnection between their weight as adults and the size of their natural parents, but little correlation with their adoptive parents.

So it would seem that yet another human characteristic which was thought to be largely determined by environmental agencies is, in fact, largely due to genetic influences.

It seems unlikely that Dr. Stunkard will be banned from university campuses, or be subject to student demonstrations; even the media have given the results fairly objective treatment — but then he was conducting a study into what affects the chemical differences in human obesity — not mental ability.

Stalker: lowered the height limit to improve race relations

POSITIVE DISCRIMATION AT WORK

It's called bending the rules

FULLY QUALIFIED WHITE youngsters are being turned away by Police Recruiting Boards while Police Authorities are going around knocking on the doors of Britain's ethnic minorities trying to persuade unqualified Asians and West Indians to join Britain's police forces.

West Midlands police have begun a 'street to street' campaign to target potential recruits from the Black and Asian population. Starting in the Asians area of West Bromwich and moving to the Handsworth area of Birmingham, officers are using census forms to identify areas and streets with a high concentration of Asians and black people in the right age group of 16 to 30.

Thames Valley police invited a blacks-only group of youngsters to monitor their work on a Saturday night in the hope that it would make them interested enough to join up.

Scotland Yard, in conjunction with Haringey Community Relations Council, have launched a recruiting drive aimed at attracting more black policemen.

Chief Constables are now prepared to waive the minimum height regulation in an attempt to recruit more black officers. Deputy Chief Constable of Greater Manchester, Mr. John Stalker, said that the 5ft. $8^1/_2$in. requirement normally debars many Asians from joining the force. But speaking for the Association of Chief Police Offices (held shortly prior to his suspension from duty amidst allegations of an improper association with a local businessman) Mr. Stalker was pleased to announce that shorter men were being taken on as a step to improving race relations.

INFLUX

The British public have every right in fearing the worse with what could lead to an influx of unqualified, under-sized coloured policemen into the force. However, there is a flicker of hope: these recruitment drives have all been tried before, and been total failures.

Assistant Commissioner H.N. Annesley of the Metropolitan Police outlines a previous recruitment drive in a letter to The Times on November 28th last year:

"Far from being passive we have, through a dedicated recruiting section, sent career advisers into ethnic communities; continued our involvement in schools and colleges; advised numerous candidates on a personal and informal basis and, following visits by senior black police officers from abroad to ethnic areas of London, sought their experience in overcoming the problem."

Despite all these efforts, Mr. Annesley admits, "the poor response to our recruiting endeavours in this field is particularly disappointing".

"You get called 'traitor' and things like that."

The reason why so few blacks and Asians are willing to join the police is because of the pressure exerted by their communities. West Indian WPC Hazel Baptiste put it in a nutshell when she revealed how some of her fellow West Indians treated her, "you get called traitor and things like that".

● The 27,000-member Metropolitan Police force has only 288 (1%) black and ethnic minority officers.

Life on the beat: A different story!

CHANGES IN the teaching of race and community relations have been introduced at the Metropolitan Police Recruit Training School following a critical report by two psychologists.

They had found that attitudes to ethnic minorities were as bad, if not worse, among officers 12 months after training than at the beginning.

The researchers, Mr. Peter Horncastle and Mr. Ray Bull, of the Department of Psychology, North-East London Polytechnic, discovered that life on the beat undermined what training a newly-recruited police officer received during the 20 week course at the Hendon Training school.

NF target Cheshire

THE NATIONAL FRONT success story of 1986 is without doubt Liverpool NF. Prior to May 1985 Liverpool had just a handful of dedicated members who worked behind the scenes to keep the tiny group ticking over; but for the last 15 months membership has grown to such an extent that now the city has two fully active NF branches and possibly another on the way!

"Following the formation of the Sefton Group in February recruitment to both NF branches has gone really well," Branch Organiser and North-West Regional Chairman Mike Harris enthused to THE FLAG.

"We are now active at least three days a week and hold fortnightly meetings. Morale in the branch is high and discipline is strict. Our membership has doubled in the last six months and we're hoping to build interest in WIRRAL and CHESHIRE by holding meetings and running some local campaigns," he said.

NEWS IN FOCUS

FRONT PAPERS ON DISPLAY

"THAT'S ONE up for the National Front" said Torbay's Conservative Agent, Roddy Braybrook after the local NF had succeeded in getting the party's newspaper accepted by the local reference library.

Mr. Peter Bottrill, the area librarian for South Devon said the National Front had written to him asking if the paper could be displayed.

"I told them it could if it was given free each month and would be put in a special cabinet in the public area of the Reference Library," he told the Western Morning News.

QUEUEING

The Front's success led to other political parties in Torbay almost queueing to donate their monthly periodicals to the library.

The Tory agent immediately arranged for the latest edition of Conservative Newsline to join the NF publication while Alliance Councillor, Adrian Saunders, said he would press for both Liberal News and SDP News to be sent to the library.

Hard-working Torbay National Front Organiser, Mark Cotterill, was pleased with what he called "a minor victory" for the NF.

Christmas Banned!

THE WORD 'Christmas' has been removed from exam papers for fear of offending ethnic minorities!

A GCSE Science paper had referred to "an electrical circuit for Christmas lights", but this was vetoed by the Secondary Examinations Council in London. Christmas was replaced by festival because "greater sensitivity must be shown with regard to the cultural diversity of society".

Rape by Accident

AN INDIAN immigrant who doesn't speak a word of English was cleared of raping a white girl because he claimed he did not realise she was saying 'no'!

He and two other Indians had attacked and raped the girl in Chelsea. The acquitted man told the court through an interpreter that he thought the woman was a prostitute.

What they preach

"No automatic wage rises" shouts the bosses' organisation, the Confederation of British Industry. "Inflation is the main enemy," screams the government. "We must keep labour costs under control" urge Tory M.P.'s

But preachers aren't so good in practice: on 17th July M.P.'s voted to increase their secretarial and research allowances from £13,211 to over £19,000 — a rise of 52%.

It would appear that some are more equal than others.

Racism in China

RACIAL ATTACKS on black students in China are on the increase.

In the latest incident 500 Chinese students beseiged African students for five hours at the Tianjin University after fights had broken out over "loud music and the presence of Chinese women at all night reggae parties".

African students involved in the trouble claim they are the victims of racial prejudice.

"The Chinese say we are uncultured" one said.

West Indian Problem

UNDER ACHIEVEMENT by black children is partly due to them speaking a different form of English from their teachers.

That's the conclusion of a two-year research study by Dr. Ashton Gibson, director of the Centre of Caribbean Studies in London.

Dr. Gibson said: "Almost all English-speaking West Indians use a mixture of Creole and standard English that is neither one thing nor another. In Britain this places them in a kind of linguistic no-man's-land which is symbolic of their situation over all".

Stress, which reveals itself in low self-esteem, depression and anti-social behaviour, is regarded as another big cause of the educational dificulties endured by West Indians.

EXPOSED: A GAPING HOLE IN THE ARMAGH BORDER

IN THE EARLY hours of the morning on August 7th about 500 Ulster Loyalists crossed the border into the Irish Republic.

In an impressive and dramatic show of strength they took over the Irish village of Clontibret in County Monaghan. During the dawn raid they daubed slogans condemning the Anglo-Irish Agreement and occupied the local police station.

Above all, the raid proved once and for all how easy it is for IRA terrorists to slip over the border after carrying out their murderous terrorist attacks.

If five hundred Loyalists can cross the border unnoticed, how much easier must it be for a small team of IRA gunmen to cross the border following their many murder missions?

Never again will claims by British and Irish governments that cross-border security has improved since the Anglo-Irish Agreement be taken seriously.

Such claims can now be seen exactly for what they are: a cynical propaganda lie by the Westminster and Dublin governments to cover up their sell-out of the Loyalist people of Ulster.

GAPING HOLE

This fact was borne out by Mr. Peter Robinson, the deputy leader of the Democratic Unionist Party and M.P. for East Belfast, who was arrested for his part in the daring raid on Clontibret.

Mr. Robinson, in a radio interview from Monaghan police station, said South Armagh had a "gaping hole" with no sign of security on the other side of the border.

"If about 500 men can walk around in what is supposed to be bandit country, how much easier must it be for the IRA going in ones and twos," said Mr Robinson, who refused both food and water during his detention by the Irish police.

Peter Robinson M.P.

Meanwhile, Mr. Kenneth McGuinness, the Official Unionist M.P. responsible for security, also publicly supported the Loyalist protest.

"If you have a government in cahoots with the government of the Irish Republic telling us that there's better frontier security, and we know it's a downright lie and that our constituents are going to be murdered by the IRA, then the only way to express that it is untrue is to carry out this sort of exercise."

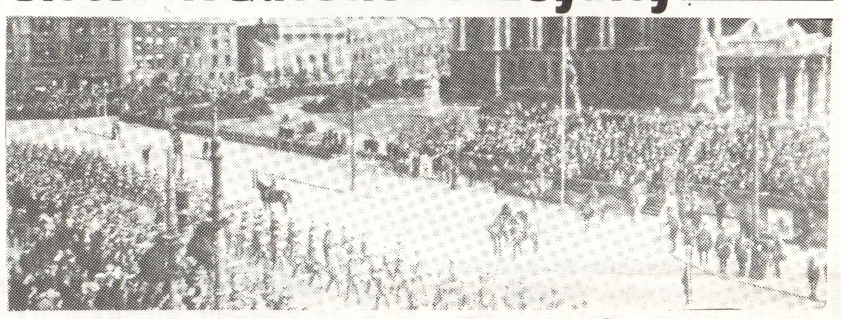
Britain and Ulster: A Question of Loyalty

IN THE same way that British Nationalists on the mainland are forever being attacked by the enemies of our Race and Nation, so Ulster Loyalists in Northern Ireland are constantly condemned and attacked by those self-same enemies.

Marxists, Westminster M.P.'s and Fleet Street newspapers keep up a ceaseless barrage of abuse against the loyal men and women of Ulster, whose only crime is loyalty to their British and Ulster heritage.

However, regardless of this betrayal by the British Establishment, the ordinary British people have a duty to stay loyal to Ulster just as Ulster has always stayed loyal to Britain.

During the First World War, thousands of loyal Ulstermen fought beside their fellow Britons at the Battle of the Somme and gave up their lives for their country.



Ulster Volunteers off to the Battle of the Somme

During World War Two, Belfast was bombed like so many other British cities. Yet the loyal people of that city stood up to the bombing raids with the same defiant spirit which characterised the resilient attitude of Londoners during the Blitz.

In Britain's hour of need, loyal Ulster never let her down. Now, in Ulster's hour of need, Britain must not let Ulster down.

Beer and Hurrah Patriotism

THE WEDDING of Andrew and Sarah saw Union Jacks come out of moth-balls for the first time since the Falklands war.

British people thronged the streets around Buckingham Palace, many decked out in red, white and blue, to cheer the young couple.

Others sat glued to the television, afraid to miss just one minute of the pomp and ceremony of the wedding the media had been promoting non-stop since the last ball was kicked in the World Cup.

INTOXICATION

The fever that apparently gripped a substantial portion of the British public can probably best be described as 'Beer and Hurrah Patriotism'.

A shallow media induced intoxication designed to allow law-abiding, decent, loyal British people to escape from the pressure and problems of our time. A state of euphoria stimulated to last for 24 hours or for as long as the media desires.

That the British people should go overboard at the opportunity to show their pride in their nation, albeit for the wedding of Andrew and Sarah, (or as the Socialist Worker so unkindly put it: 'A Parasite to a Scrounger') shows how desperate the majority of our people are to be loyal to their country.

PRIDE IN NATION

It is this 'Pride in Nation' that the National Front must feed and nurture. We must educate people into the real meaning of patriotism, a patriotism born of belonging to a great nation, a patriotism grown out of having a stake in that nation, and a patriotism secure in the knowledge that by serving your country you are serving the people of that country, all the people of that country, the young, the old, the disabled and the less capable than ourselves.

Real patriotism means having a responsibility within the country. It means every British person possible owning their little part of Britain. Real patriotism means involvement in your community. It means working together with the people next door, the other people in your street, the people in your town and with the other people of your country.

ACCEPTANCE OF DUTY

Our patriotism is a sense of belonging combined with the acceptance of duty to serve the community for the benefit of the nation.

It is a proud and noble ideal. A proud and noble ideal that is both the sword and shield of the National Front in the battle to win back our country.

Front to fight Militant stronghold in Liverpool

Mike Harris. Proposed by Reg Douglas (seated) and seconded by David Howatson

Liverpool is on the election trail. At a recent branch meeting local organiser and North West Chairman MIKE HARRIS was adopted as prospective parliamentary candidate for the seat of Liverpool Broadgreen.

The seat is currently held by Militant M.P. Terry Fields and it has always been considered as a stronghold for the Trotskyite group.

In his acceptance speech Mike Harris outlined how the branch would 'win' at the election and how they would build up local support.

He said: "The National Front, unlike the Estab - lishment parties, fights elections to win support, to win publicity and to win votes, so from that point of view of course we'll win."

He also stated that he intended some of his members to become a part of the local community in order to build up support on a local level.

In reply to a question about the strength of Militant in the area, especially the branch's target ward of OLD SWAN, he commented that this was true up until recently, but people can now see the damage that Militant have done to the city and are looking for a change.

He said: "Militant still rave about the area in their publications, but we know they are finished - people have been let down by them and we can offer a radical alternative.

"We are open and honest about our views which, after Militant, people respect. We discuss our policies freely on the doorstep and gain some good responses."

OLD SWAN WARD

The branch is also hoping to fight Old Swan Ward at the next local elections and due to the great success of their Election Fund is considering fighting another seat in the area.

SOUTH AFRICA: A SPIRIT THAT WILL NOT BE BROKEN

COMPARED WITH the antics of the Mango Dictators in their countries, the Government of South Africa appears the only light of civilisation in a dark continent exploited by ruthless tyrants and torn apart by tribal turmoil.

There are many flaws in the policy of Separate Development practiced by South Africa, but it is a policy that has brought stability and prosperity to a continent which has seen neither since the days of Empire.

The feelings of the White South Africans were put over to Geoffrey Howe in a letter published in The Citizen during his visit to Pretoria:

Dear Sir Geoffrey,

If most whites view your mission with more that a little suspicion it is because they have not forgotten what happened to the whites and moderate blacks of Rhodesia when one of your predecessors, Lord Carington, sold them out at Lancaster House.

We have around five million whites here. This is their country, as much as it is the country of blacks, coloured people and Indians. They will not give up by threat of sanctions. They will not give it up under threat of islation . . .

This is our South Africa, our land, the country in which we must all live together in peace; and no foreigners, no foreign country, can tell us what to do; no foreigners or foreign country has the right to impose sanctions which we, not they, will have to live with.

This was the same line used by President P.W. Botha in his address to the South African Parliament:

"If we have to be dependent on our Creator and our ability alone, then I say let it be. We have the faith, the inherent ability and the natural resources to ensure our future."

Such a spirit will not be broken easily.

DROP 'UNIONIST' PLEA

A GROUP of Loyalists in Birmingham including trade unionists, former Tories and National Front supporters have called upon the Conservative Party to remove the words " . . . and Unionist" from their sign "Conservative and Unionist Club" above their headquarters in Stratford Road, Hall Green.

In a letter to the local Tory party, the group said:

"To continue linking the name of the Conservative Party with Ulster is, we feel, highly inappropriate but more importantly grossly insulting."

It describes the signing of the Anglo-Irish Agreement as "shameful treachery" by Margaret Thatcher and rank and file Tories who supported it.

HAVING A STAKE IN YOUR COUNTRY

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTIVITY IN the Falkland Islands has jumped by 50% since before the 1982 war. This has been achieved not by a massive increase in the use of fertilizers or other chemicals. It has come about by the redistribution of land away from the Falklands Islands Company and other large concerns to the small farmer.

Some farm managers have bought outright the land which they formerly managed and have achieved impressive improvements. In other areas such as fisheries and manufacturing similar developments have been taking place.

All this has been going on with the British Government's approval and encouragement. In fact we have to admit that Mrs. Thatcher has (so far) been good for the Falklands: she has defended them from alien invasion and her government has encouraged the islanders to take a direct stake in their islands.

If she will do this for the people who inhabit islands thousands of miles away, then why the hell won't she do it for the people of the British Isles — or doesn't she consider us worth defending or capable of running our won affairs?

What is clearly good for the Falkland Islanders is also good for the British people, but perhaps the vested interests in Britain are that much more powerful than those operating in the Falklands.

REDS FAIL TO STOP NF RALLY

THERE WERE 12 arrests in Oldham on July 19th as Labour Party thugs together with Communists and Asians fought with Police who had been drafted into the town to look after a National Front rally.

Meanwhile the NF, who had been banned from marching in Oldham held a peaceful meeting in a central Manchester hall where an audience of 150 local members heard speeches from Alex Malcolm and Dave Probert of Oldham National Front and Mike Harris, the North-West Regional Chairman.

ODIN'S SONG

Awake Children of the Raven!
You have slumbered to long; the dark night must end.
The mists of time have covered you as with blankets of softness.
Throw them off, the morning breaks!

Unite Children of the Raven!
You of one blood keep faith, find again your greatness as of old;
It is there within your hearts, a flame burning.

Arise Children of the Raven!
Once more come forth into the sunlight.
High in the hills old gods sing of battle, harken to their song.
Take up your bright swords again and fight,
The enemy is upon us!

GIVE US BACK OUR LAND!

No matter what they do to us,
No matter what they say,
We'll keep fighting for our rights
Like we did yesterday.
We won't go away,
We're here to stay,
We're not gonna give up now
It's our kids' futures we're fighting for
And we're gonna show you how!

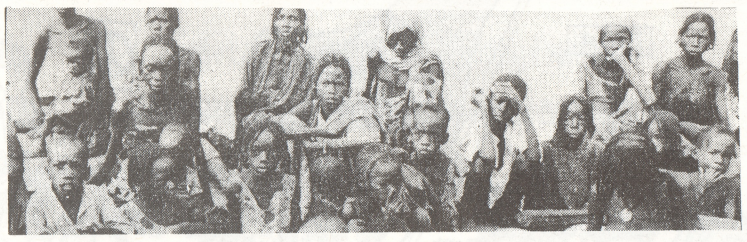
Anthem Banned

LABOUR loonies running Harlow Council have severely reprimanded local band leader Andy Ross after his musicians struck up God Save the Queen at the Labour Party's summer fête.

The anthem has been banned for the last 20 years by the town's Labour council.

The Ted Budden Column



Bullets for the Hungry

YOU WILL RECALL, with revulsion I trust, the wave of mob hysteria that has swept through the trendier reaches of the Western world over the last couple of years, inspired by one Bob O'Geldorf, an Irishman (?) who looks as though he stooped to kiss the Blarney stone and then fell flat on his face in the mud.

In this, the ultimate exercise in public relations manipulation, millions of callow nerks and menopausal hysterics were induced to delve into the shallows of their consciences and engage in all manner of mass idiocies, ostensibly on behalf of the starving peasants of Ethopia.

Not only did this campaign induce proles of all classes to make public asses of themselves — or, to be precise, be exactly what they are — but it also extracted large sums of money from ordinary people, many of them old enough to know better.

It was indeed a kind of charity blackmail since those who were unwilling to give to the great cause were made to feel as though they were hard-hearted and uncaring.

It also gained O'Geldorf an honorary knighthood and made the whole honours system look the ridiculous and contemptible thing it is; just about the only plus point of the whole sorry business.

TIGHTWADS

Those stoney-hearted tightwads among us who refused to give, pointed out — somewhat hesitantly perhaps — that Ethiopia was ruled by a bloodthirsty black despot, one Colonel Megistu, whose communist-inspired coup had overthrown the Ethiopian monarchy some years earlier.

We suggested that Megistu was totally indifferent to the sufferings of the Ethopian peasants and that Sir Scruffbag's efforts on their behalf would merely relieve Megistu of the tiresome necessity of feeding his own people and leave him with a great deal more cash to spend on armaments.

For recently there was a summit conference of the so-called Organisation of African Unity and at this momentous meeting of minds the aforesaid Colonel Megistu pledged to train and equip ten thousand soldiers to attack the white fiends in South Africa — all at his own, or rather our own, expense.

JUNGLE NAPOLEON

This is unlikely to result in many sleepless nights in Pretoria, however, for Megistu's ambition to be a kind of jungle Napoleon has so far been spectacularly unrealised.

Moreover, Dr. Hastings Banda of Malawi, a rare black African realist, once sagely observed that if all the African nations banded together to attack South Africa, the South African army would be taking tea in Cairo by the end of the week.

They might also call in at Addis Ababa for lunch on the way.

A Very Civilised Massacre

I see that little David, that mush masquerading as Steel , has declared that "Britain must join the rest of the civilised world in taking action against South Africa".

I must say such unctuous cant comes ill from a little creep whose main claim to fame stems from his initiating the infamous Abortion Act in Parliament. This Act has resulted in the slaughter of many hundreds of thousands of innocents, a fact that seems to rest lightly on the narrow shoulders of Mr. David Steel.

So David Steel wishes to be associated with the civilised world, does he? But does any truly decent person in the civilised world wish to be associated with an abortionist's runner?

NF CAMPAIGN FOR RIDINGS RETURN

A CAMPAIGN is under way in Yorkshire to restore the name 'Riding' to the districts of the county.

Yorkshire, England's largest county, consisted of three Ridings: East, West and North, prior to the local government re-organisation in 1974.

The bureaucrats then divided Yorkshire into North, West and South Yorkshire and tried to form a separate county called Humberside situated around the Humber estuary. The majority of people living in 'Humberside' wish to return to Yorkshire and still class themselves as Yorkshire folk.

Now that the Metropolitan County Councils have been abolished the campaign to return to the Ridings has gained momentum.

The Ridings were formed in the 9th century by Vikings along geological lines. All Yorkshire NF branches support the return to the Ridings campaign in order to preserve the history and heritage of Yorkshire.

IMMIGRATION: MORE WORRIES

THE HOME Office has sent an extra 30 immigration officials to Heathrow's Terminal 3 to cope with an increase in West Africans seeking admission to Britain.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP FORMED

AUGUST SAW the official launch of the National Front Christian Fellowship.

Producing a regular newsheet and articles for publication in both the Establishment and Nationalist press, the NFCF aims at bringing Christians within the National Front together so that their viewpoint can be put forward.

Founded by NF members from as far apart as Sheffield and Eastbourne, the NFCG's first newsheet contains an excellent article, 'God is Fed Up' which pulls no punches in taking to task today's churchgoers for their elusiveness from the problems Britain faces today.

"Most churchgoers today live a sheltered life and turn their backs on the real world . . . . they seem paralysed from the skull downwards when it comes to moving outside their 'holy huddle'.

Election Jumble

BRIGHTON NF raised £52.40 when they held a jumble sale in the Sussex town of Shoreham-by-Sea.

The proceeds are to go to the General Election Campaign Fund for Ted Budden, the Brighton NF Chairman who's standing for the party in Hove.

LONDON NIGHT OUT

MORE THAN sixty NF members from South and East London enjoyed an excellent evening out on Saturday 19th July at a central London 'nite-spot'.

The purpose of the NF Social Club evening was to raise money for Joe Pearce and Martin Wingfield to compensate them for the earnings they lost during their recent spells in prison.

Everyone agreed that the buffet provided was the best ever at an NF social, (many thanks to Mrs. Tina Denny and her team of helpers) while Micky Hipperson kept the dance floor filled as revellers enjoyed music from his mobile disco.

The evening was rounded off with speeches by Joe and Martin, thanking those present for the £250 they contributed, the majority of which was donated by the recipients to the NF Support Group.

Hoisting THE FLAG in Margate

MORE THAN seventy copies of THE FLAG were sold in less than two hours during a Day of Action in Margate on Saturday 26th July.

The event, organised by the Kent Regional Council, was the first activity for some time and Regional Organiser Sid Campbell was very pleased with the result.

"These paper sales are the best way of getting our message over to the public," he told THE FLAG.

"Many people when buying a paper like to stop and have a chat about NF policy as well."

State of Emergency

NOW, I wonder what the following London estates have in common:-

Little Ilford, Newham
Broadwater Farm, Haringey
Clapton Road, Hackney
North Peckham, Southwark
Stockwell Park, Lambeth
South Acton, Ealing
Stonebridge Park, Brent.

Scotland Yard has identified these areas as being "High risk riot zones". Now as everyone knows, all these estates have a high percentage of ********** **********

*(We regret that due to the State of Emergency imposed by the Thatcher regime we cannot complete this statement without falling foul of the * Relations Censorship Department. In fact leaving the above blank space may render us liable to prosecution. Still we must all remember how lucky we are to live in free, democratic Britain and not in a nasty racist state like South Africa.)*

NF STUDENT STANDS UP TO RED MOB

MARK SPONG, a former NF GLC election candidate, has been banned from the Plymouth Polytechnic Students' Union, charged with 'bringing the Union into disrepute'. This ludicrous so-called 'offence' was based on the fact that Mark gave an interview to the local press in response to attacks on him by left-wing students.

The executive of the Students' Union decided that by publicly associating himself with the NF and not condemning its policies he was in breach of the NUS 'anti-racist' policy.

The NUS (National Union of Students) has a closed shop on University and Polytechnic campus — students automatically become members of the Union, and the local Students' Union receives a block grant from the Polytechnic to fund student facilities.

The implication of the ban against Mark is that the Students' Union has in effect decided which political parties a student may support and be associated with. Now the NF, to quote the Lord Advocate (Lord Cameron) "is a lawful body and it can within the law continue to carry out its activities".

It is not the function of the NUS to restrict political choice, this is clearly usurping the role of Parliament. It must be the electorate that decides between the merits of rival political parties — all political parties, not just those favoured by left-wing students.

RIGHT OF REPLY

One result of the ban is that Mark is being denied the use of facilities like the subsidized laundry in the Union building. A more serious development has been the refusal of the editor of the student magazine Fly (Mark Wilkins) to allow him the right of reply to serious allegations made against the NF in Fly.

Wilkins has taken to re-publishing articles from the reverse-McCarthyite, anti-British Nationalist publication Searchlight; in particular, he reprinted a piece alleging links between the NF and soccer violence. This reiterated the usual lies about Brussels, Wilkins claimed he was unable to print Mark's letter of correction "as he was banned from the Union and therefore not allowed a platform in the Union publication".

Mark Spong

HECKLE

The trouble first started last term when Mark, along with other nationalists from both the NF and the BNP went along to heckle a speaker from the ANC (African National Congress) who was speaking at an Anti-Apartheid meeting in Plymouth.

The ANC is a Marxist, terrorist organisation, responsible for planting land mines which have killed white farmers and their children in the Transvaal. It has also been responsible for the deaths of more blacks than the South African security forces.

However, many of Mark's fellow students were outraged that he dared to speak out against this supporter of Marxist terrorism.

As at North London Poly, angry students initially boycotted lectures attended by Mark, but they soon realized they were damaging their own education and changed tactics.

They demanded that separate seminars be held for anti-NF students and a meeting was held in the Students' Union to demand various measures against Mark and the NF.

A motion demanding, amongst other things, his expulsion from the Students' Union was caried by 270 votes to 100 (with a few abstentions). Only about 400 of the 5,000 students at the Poly attended. As many ordinary students did not attend, the extreme left and their allies secured a clear majority.

However, the students' tactics backfired because the events at the Poly have resulted in much good publicity for the NF in Plymouth and several new recruits have been gained for the recently re-formed Plymouth Group

Mark says: "I came to Plymouth to study for a degree, not to engage in political activities — but like any other citizen I reserve the right to support the party of my choice. If the left-wing elements at the Poly think they can intimidate me, they had better think again".

● Mark Spong is studying for B.Sc. (Hons.) in Politics and Psychology.

Social Club: Holiday in Ibiza

AT 6.30 P.M. ON Saturday 24th May the National Front Social Club left Gatwick Airport on their holiday to the Island of Ibiza.

For the next week NF members from all over Britain enjoyed the sun, sea, sand and sangria of what is without a doubt Spain's best holiday resort.

The relaxed atmosphere of San Antonio Abad soon persuades its visitors to slip into a routine where the pleasures of the holiday can be enjoyed to the full.

Breakfast after nine is followed by a leisurely walk along the bay to a sheltered cove where the crystal clear sea provides a welcome escape from the unblinking sun. Midday, nothing refreshes like an ice-cold beer, then its back to the hotel for lunch and a siesta until 5.00 p.m.

Late afternoon its down to the hotel pool for a swim and sunbathe, with happy hour (7 to 8 p.m.) where drinks are half price, setting you up for the evening. Dinner at 9.30 is followed by political discussion over Irish coffees, rum and coke or some exotic cocktail, with the Danish and German residents of the hotel.

What larks!
Fun and games with some Danish girls

Cheers! We'll be back again next year

HAUNTS

Midnight is when it all starts. The streets of San Antonio are paved with bars, cafes, discos and night clubs. Joe Spoons, Sgt. Peppers and the Hard Rock Cafe were the main haunts of the NF contingent, providing a varied cross-section of music and customers. An early night finishes at 4.00 a.m. The social club members usually lasted until 5.00 a.m., although one gentleman from Milton Keynes kept going until 10.00 a.m.

It was the holiday of a lifetime, with beach parties, barbeques, safaris and night club visits adding to the week's activities. All those who went are pledged to go again next year. Same week, same resort and same hotel.

If you think you've got the stamina to last for a week you would be very welcome to join us.

NOW ANOTHER AWFUL AMERICAN IMPORT

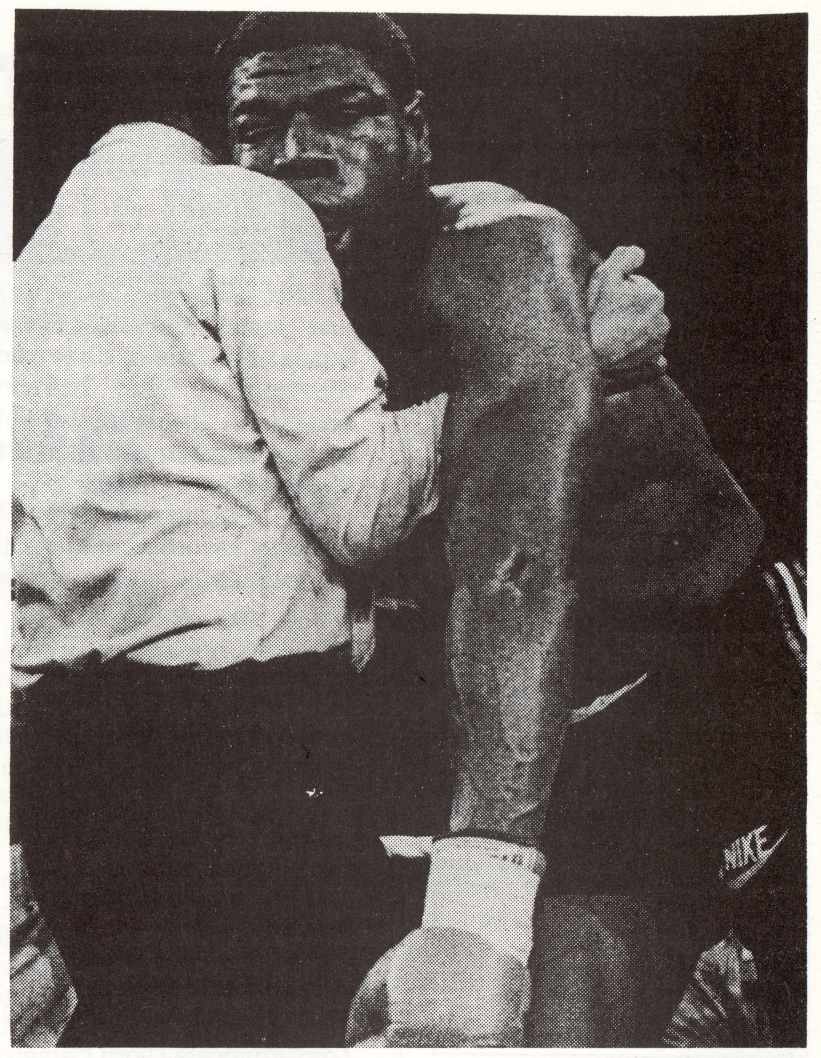
American Football: should not be encouraged

AMERICAN FOOTBALL is becoming increasingly common in Britain and there are now regular leagues. It is inevitable that the youngsters who play such a game in Britain will look to the professionals of America for their heroes.

British people may be interested to note that on 12th July the United States National Football League was forced to back down from imposing random drug tests.

The players' union objected to the idea just 10 days after Don Rogers of the 'Cleveland Browns' died from cocaine poisoning. They claimed that they had protected their "collective bargaining position".

Presumably the concepts of a "floating pass" and a "high ball" have now taken on completely new meanings. Let us all hope that this new craze dies out as quickly as possible before it turns into a real tragedy.



Frank Bruno cynically exploited to be battered in the ring

SACRIFICED! ON THE ALTAR OF RACE RELATIONS

FRANK BRUNO'S EFFORT against Tim Witherspoon in attempting to become the first heavyweight, living in Britain, since Bob Fitzsimmons to gain the world title was heroic.

For a boxer of Bruno's standard to last the best part of eleven rounds with an accomplished fighter with the experience of the American world champion was not far short of a miracle and a tribute to the courage of the West Indian from Wandsworth.

Frank Bruno should never have been in the same ring as Witherspoon. In none of his previous 29 fights had he fought anyone remotely up to the top flight of heavyweight boxing.

A series of old, unfit and below-average opponents were wheeled out for Bruno to systematically floor for the sole purpose of providing him with quick wins to make him look like a world class fighter.

PROFIT

The 51,000 people at Wembley paying anything up to £1,000 for a ticket have provided promoters with the profits they wanted and the 'Lawless Stable' can be satisfied that another of their young men has had a title crack thanks to careful management.

But what of Bruno, not seen for a week after the fight? Was he nursing his wounds? Nursing his pride? Do we know what sort of mental and physical damage he suffered during that last onslaught from Witherspoon?

I expect Frank Bruno was embarrassed. Embarrassed because he didn't win a world title when the media had managed to convince nearly everyone, including the boxer himself, that he could.

The media, you see, egged on by the multi-racial lobby, are desperate to find a black superstar that the British people can idolise and so smother their natural instinct of wishing to see British sportsmen represent our country, not West Indians, Africans and Asians.

SACRIFICED

As the media frantically searches for that elusive superstar, the careers and lives of the failed proteges litter their path.

Multi-racialism hurts everyone. From the little old lady brutally mugged in one of our inner-cities, to the likeable black boxer cynically exploited to be battered in the ring — both are sacrificed on the altar of Race Relations.

Games end in financial chaos

Maxwell (right) with Prince Edward and a Moonie

CHAOS SURROUNDS the financing of the Commonwealth Games in Edinburgh.

Three million pounds lost, a Moonie produced by Robert Maxwell to pay the losses, Edinburgh Council suing the Commonwealth Games Council for £75,000; what on earth can be happening?

One is reminded of a long and meticulous Department of Trade investigation in 1971 into the stewardship of Pergamon Press. It said of one Labji Hoch: "...not a man who can be relied upon to exercise proper stewardship of a public company".

What on earth has that got to do with the Edinburgh Games?

Answer: The Chairman of the Commonwealth Games Company Limited was Robert Maxwell, real name Labji Hoch!

KARNATAK HEADS 'OUR THREE' FOR SEPTEMBER

THE NATIONAL Hunt season is with us again and September and October can provide lucrative pickings for punters prepared to follow horses acting on firm ground.

Karnatak's ten length victory at Worcester last month looks good form and he should set up a sequence. Others worth noting for September are Reg Hollinshead's hurdler Well Covered and a useful novice from David Nicholson's yard, The Berwick.

RACIST ROY 'SENT OFF'

ROY OF the Rovers faces a spell in the dock accused of stirring up racial hatred towards Arabs.

The Melchester striker has been reported to the Commission for Racial Equality after he was involved in a story where the Rovers coach was bombed by Arab terrorists while Melchester were on a pre-season tour of the Arab Kingdom of Basran.

Roy, or in his absence the Rovers' editor Ian Vosper, faces a maximum two years in prison and an unlimited fine if convicted.

HOME-GROWN CRICKETERS

IAN BOTHAM sprang to the defence of Viv Richards who was involved in an incident with Somerset spectators who made 'racist' remarks.

"These people should realise that Viv comes from a well-respected family in Antigua," he said.

All well and good, Ian. Viv is a top class cricketer and a great credit to his sport, but the Somerset supporters probably want to see Englishmen, born and bred in Somerset, representing their county, not 'foreign imports'.
